Touchdown passes fight go fight... trophies, crushes, pearly whites On him to win the game the deck is stacked Rich in dollars, long on charm.... head cheerleaders on either arm
We all wish to be that quarterback
We're all unpaid extras in the Thommy Brady dream

First on stage into our hearts...fishnet, meat dress, high heeled tart with all she has to say, how could we miss it Out she comes a collective gasp...She won't stop shaking her ass long enough for any of us to kiss it We're all unpaid extras in the Lady GaGa dream
We're all unpaid extras in the Lady GaGa dream
Dream on... Dream on... Dream on

The road less travelled's a golden mile...we'd all hang with him a while Acting for all time in present tense
An empty vessel for a writer's hand...Bat shit crazy's in high demand
Who knows one day he could be our president
We are unpaid extras in the Billy Murray dream
We are unpaid extras in the Billy Murray dream
Dream on... Dream on... Dream on Dream on... Dream on... Dream on

I hug my kids and I kiss my wife...Sometimes I might curse my life
As I sleep in wait of what tomorrow brings been known to work from dawn to dusk to try my best and push my luck family and friends to me are no little things So I pay my dues and bid my time may be off your grid, but it's all mine And they'd switch dreams with me this instant if you could Cause the love I make and the love I take there isn't any way to fake It's all real and it's all real, real good

So I'll Dream on... I'll Dream on... I'll Dream on

I'll Dream on... I'll Dream on... I'll Dream on

They're over paid extras in the Al Guimaraes dream

They're over paid extras in the Al Guimaraes dream

Dream on... Dream on... Dream on

So don't get caught on the wishin' stone go out and make your life your own act then bow before your final curtain and Dream on... Dream on... Dream on

Dream on... Dream on... Dream on

We're all star attractions in the universal dream
